DECEMBER TERM FEDERAL COURT

Session Began Yesterday Morning.

Judge James E. Boyd Presiding—Mr. E. C. Murray Foreman of Grand Jury—Large Number of Cases on Docket—Forsyth Negro Convicted of Raising Silver Certificate—Napier Case Will Likely Be Set For Trial This Afternoon or Tomorrow.

The regular December term of United States District court began yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, Judge James E. Boyd presiding. There are about a hundred criminal cases to be disposed of, the majority being of slight importance. The morning session was taken up with the selection of the grand jury and the court's charge.

Mr. E. C. Murray was chosen foreman of the grand jury. The remaining members of that body are K. M. Thompson, C. S. Payne, R. E. Dalton, H. C. Causey, A. R. Holmes, J. T. Roseman, C. E. Maxley, Junius H. Newman, B. A. Davis, H. H. Hartley, Ed. N. Cates, Robt. C. Dickey, J. L. Nelson, S. A. Swaim, T. S. Bankhead, W. I. Haywood, J. H. Fulton, Spot Dillard. (col.)

Judge Boyd's charge was brief, but comprehensive. He defined the law covering various offenses they would probably be called on to investigate, and explained the duties of grand jurors. During the charge the court room was well filled and the audience listened to the charge with much interest.

When court convened for the afternoon session the case against John Craddock, of Rockingham county, was taken up. The defendant was charged with illicit distilling. The case went to the jury in a short while, but they had not agreed last night. The case of George News, also of Rockingham, was taken up, the charge being blockading. He was found not guilty before the jury left the box.

The next and final case for the afternoon was against Frank Tramble, a Forsyth negro, who was charged with raising a $2 silver certificate to $10 and passing it. The jury returned a verdict of guilty after court adjourned and sentence will likely be pronounced this morning. Tramble has just completed a sentence of 2 years in the federal prison at Atlanta for a like offense. He was tried in Baltimore, Md., there being no less than 140 witnesses for the government. He did not go on the stand yesterday, but it is understood that he claims he did not know the money had been tampered with. The offense was committed over two years ago.

The case against William Young, of Reidsville, which has been in the court for several years, has been compromised, announcement to this effect being made on yesterday. By terms of the compromise Young is to pay a fine of $500 and costs, the latter amounting to about $130. It will be remembered that the defendant was connected with the Sprinkle case, the charge being defrauding, the principal offender having served a sentence in the federal prison at Atlanta.

No date has been set for the trial of Jos. Napier and E. Charles Quaster, the men charged with violating the white slave traffic laws. District Attorney Holton stated last night that a time would probably be decided upon this afternoon or tomorrow morning. There are a number of witnesses in the case and the trial will consume a day or more. Napier is also charged with using the mails to defraud.

News of the death of Mrs. Naomi Ware, of Shelby, mother of Rev. W. R. Ware, of this city, was received here yesterday. Mr. Ware received a telegram Sunday stating that she was critically ill and left on No. 35 Sunday night for Shelby. Yesterday morning he wired his wife that his mother was dead. Mrs. Ware left at 1 o'clock yesterday to join her husband in attending the funeral, which will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Methodist church in Shelby.

ANNUAL SESSION [illegible] BOARD OF AGRICULTURE

It Will Be Held In Raleigh Today—Biennial Report To Legislature.

Raleigh, Dec. 5.—The State Board of Agriculture meets in annual session Wednesday here and the finance committee will be in session tomorrow preparing its report and recommendations. The biennial report for the approaching legislature is to be made at this time also. The finance committee consists of Commissioner W. A. Graham, William Dunn, A. T. McCallum, J. P. McRae, A. Cannon, and K. W. Barnes. Since the last meeting of the board H. T. Edgerton has succeeded Hon. Ashley Horne as a member of the board, Mr. Horne having been elected the Johnston county member of the lower house of the General Assembly.

This morning about 10 o'clock Mr. Harry Loeb, for a number of years a highly esteemed citizen of Raleigh, merchandise broker and owner of considerable rental real estate, died at his home on McDowell street. He had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for quite a while and this with some complications, caused death. He was 60 years old. For a number of years he was engaged in the cotton manufacturing in Georgia for a number of years. He was a native of Wilmington and married Miss Bessie Batchelor, daughter of the late J. B. Batchelor, a former attorney general of North Carolina. She survives him. Arrangements are being made to carry the remains to Warrenton for interment Wednesday.

In the Federal court this morning Rufus Langdon submitted to the charge of aiding and abetting W. C. Wood in blockade distilling on Langdon's farm in Johnston county. He was let off with $100 fine. This was the case in which Ed S. Abell, Johnston county attorney, got in trouble through the court having gotten the impression that he intended to make a false impression on the court that he had a telegram from his home calling him there to a sick life, thereby forcing the continuance of the Langdon case for the term. It was after this incident that the court issued a capias for Langdon and required his trial at this term. Chas. U. Harris and W. B. Jones represented him.

MRS. M. B. EDDY DEAD

Boston, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy, founder and head of the Christian Science Church, died at 10:45 last night at her magnificent residence at Chestnut Hill. At her side were a number of prominent leaders, who had been hastily summoned. Mrs. Eddy had been ill several days. She had taken her last drive Thursday. She had received no medical attendance. Death was due to natural causes, it was announced by Alfred Farlow, publicity man for the church. The direct cause was probably pneumonia.

The passing away of Mrs. Eddy was announced at the services in the Mother Church yesterday morning. It was close upon the noon hour, and the usual Sunday morning service of the Christian Science Society was drawing to a close. The attendance was large, and besides the numerous adherents in Boston, many from various other parts of the world who were making a pious pilgrimage to the Mother Church were present. The worshippers in mien and appearance gave the impression of the comfort and satisfaction they had obtained from the exercises. This was no new experience with them, but this morning in some unexplainable manner it seemed that it was deepened.

Just then it was that Reader Clifford P. Smith said that he had an announcement to make. Instant attention was given by the thousands whom he addressed. Whether few or many, or, indeed, whether any in the body of the church had foreknowledge of what the statement was to be, could not be gathered from anything unusual in their countenances.

Never before since Christian Science was established had an event of such moment, both present and prospective, been announced within the walls of the grandest temple of Christian Science. It told of the passing beyond the limits of mortality of the founder of that doctrine at a ripe age, after years of labors by pen and example in the propaganda of Christian Science.

Friends To Meet.

A meeting has been appointed for the Friends' meeting house, corner Asheboro and Lee streets, at 3:30 o'clock today. Amos Kenworthy is expected to be present at this meeting.

All will be welcome.

The first official work of the newly elected Board of County Commissioners yesterday after swearing in the officers was to call a special school district tax election for Bruce township. The election is to be held at Summerfield on January 10, Mr. N. W. Ogburn being appointed registrar and Messrs. T. B. Doggett and C. H. Wilson pollholders for the election. The special tax, if the election is carried, will be 30 cents on the $100 valuation and 90 cents on the poll. The fund thus created will be used in lengthening the school term in the district.

The board was quite busy yesterday and all of today will be required to dispose of the vast amount of business, it being doubtful whether it can be disposed of today. The commissioners—Messrs. J. A. Davidson, W. C. Tucker, G. S. Bradshaw, W. C. Boren and J. Al Rankin were sworn in by Clerk Ernest Clapp. Mr. J. A. Davidson was re-elected chairman of the board. Rankin gave bond in the sum of $10,000 and was sworn in. Treasurer G. H. McKinney furnished two bonds in the sum of $20,000 and $45,000 and he was sworn in. Sheriff B. E. Jones was sworn in in the afternoon, his bond not arriving until noon. His process bond is $5,000. He had already given a tax bond of $85,000.

J. H. Clapp was elected standard keeper, filing bond in the sum of $500. Coroner W. W. Wood filed bond in the sum of $2,000 and was sworn in.

The board re-elected Capt. J. W. Tyson superintendent of the road forces. W. W. Whittington was re-elected keeper of the county home, while C. M. Glass was re-elected keeper of the house of correction.

An appropriation of $125 was made to cover the deficiency in the prize money offered to the successful contestants in the Boys' Corn Club, it being stated to the board that $425 had been raised by private subscription for this purpose.

The remainder of the day was taken up in routine work, such as auditing accounts, approving bills, etc. Today road matters will be considered and in addition two juries will be drawn, one for the civil term beginning January 2 and the other for the civil term beginning January 16.

NEW PASTOR OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

In the Sunday school a special program had been arranged by the Baraca class, at which time an address of welcome was delivered by Dr. Moseley, president of the Baraca class, and responded to by Rev. Mr. Turner. There was special music at both services, and the day was one of great enjoyment to both pastor and people.

At the eleven o'clock service Mr. Turner preached from the text, "Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers." Eph. 1:16. He urged the importance of prayer, but said that the tendency was too much toward praying for ourselves and not enough for others; that those who get the highest blessings are those unselfish people who reach out in prayer and service to help their fellowmen. It was a beautiful sermon, but above all, a helpful and practical one.

In the evening the subject was "Love" based on the text, "Peter, lovest thou me more than these?"

Mr. Turner is a consecrated man, a fluent speaker, well educated, and withal, a person who bears himself with ease and confidence. It was sometime after his graduation from Wake Forest College that he felt called of God to enter the ministry. He then went to Louisville, Ky., and completed a course of study at the Baptist Theological Seminary. His last pastorate was at Macon, Georgia.

Mr. Turner will not be permanently located in Greensboro until the first of the year, but will be in his pulpit at each Sunday service until convenient for him to remove his family to the city.

SINGERS' CONVENTION

Met At Pleasant Garden Saturday and Sunday—Interesting Speeches.

The first annual meeting of the Union Convention of Singers, recently organized by Prof. A. M. Fentriss, of Pleasant Garden, was held in the Pleasant Garden M. E. church from Saturday evening to Sunday afternoon, December 3 and 4. A large number was present, representing three counties. The music was under the direction of Prof. Fentriss, and was indeed creditable to himself and to all having part in the exercises. The program was varied, there being vocal solos, quartets, and chorus numbers, as well as instrumental selections. A solo by little Mabel Fentriss and a song entitled "Little Moses," sung by the little Marley children, were special features and were enjoyed immensely. Miss Mabel Fentriss added much to the music with her violin.

The speaker for Saturday evening was Rev. Mr. Sharpe, the new pastor of the church at Pleasant Garden. His address was forceful and particularly interesting to music lovers.

The speaker for Sunday morning was Rev. Mr. Morgan, of Elon College, who preached from a text apposite to the occasion, "Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing praises unto God." He declared that nature praises God more than man; that there is no better way to praise him than in song.

Prof. Holt, of Greensboro, talked very interestingly in the afternoon about singing as a gift, declaring that those who have been endowed with musical talent should not neglect to improve it; that the devil has more power in a church where singing is poor than where it is good.

The occasion was one of the most inspiring and uplifting that have been held at Pleasant Garden for years.

The next meeting of the convention will be held in the same church in November, 1911.

IN MEMORY OF DEPARTED ELKS

Impressive Exercises on Sunday Afternoon.

Annual "Lodge of Sorrow" Held In Grand At Three Thirty O'clock—Large Number of Friends of Order Present to Hear Address and Eulogies—Nearly Two Hundred Elks in Attendance——Enjoyable Musical Program.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Grand Greensboro Lodge, No. 602, Benevolent Protective Order of Elks held the annual "Lodge of Sorrow," the exercises, which were solemn and impressive, being attended by a large number of friends of the order. About two hundred Elks marched in a body from the Elks' Club and occupied seats in the central section of the building.

The stage had been decorated with palms and potted plants. On the presiding officer's table, which was covered by the National flag, was an Elk's head. Seated on the rostrum were Exalted Ruler F. P. Marshall, who presided; Messrs. J. N. Wilson, T. S. Beall, S. J. Stern, G. S. Bradshaw, W. P. Bynum, Revs. Melton Clark, T. J. Ogburn and Father Vincent Taylor, and the musicians.

The exercises began with the playing of Chopin's Funeral march by an orchestra, composed of a dozen pieces. Then followed the opening ritual and singing of the opening ode by the Elks, Rev. Melton Clark making the invocation. Miss Gonzales Byrne sang most impressively "The Triumph of Life," this being followed by prayer by Rev. T. J. Ogburn.

Mr. G. Sam Bradshaw then made an address, in which he clearly outlined the principles of the order. The speaker said the occasion brought to his mind the thought: "What would life be without memories of the past and the graves of the departed." He declared that Elks do not wait until a brother is dead before sympathy is shown him. Nor does the order draw the lines with the borders of its membership. Whenever the call for assistance is made by an outsider the hand of charity and brotherly love is extended just as readily as it would should the person in need be an Elk. The foundation stone of the order was taken from the Book of books; the Divine injunction "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." The speaker compared the Elks' home to a private home, for there, he said, one finds the same warmth and cheer and that brotherly love that is found at home. He said that many criticized the order, but this was because they did not fully understand the nature of the work and supposed that the order was merely for the purpose of having a good time. The address was heard with much interest.

The orchestra rendered a selection—Semiramis, Rossini—after which Mr. S. J. Stern delivered a eulogy, speaking of the virtues of Isador Schiffman, who died less than a year ago. The real test of a man's life is: can he live without blemish, said Mr. Stern. This he declared that Isador Schiffman had done.

A quartet, Messrs. Dickerson, Andrews, Callum and Rankin, rendered an enjoyable selection, at the conclusion of which Mr. T. S. Beall spoke of the life of James E. Wrenn. The deceased was possessed of one of the best attributes of the human heart—fidelity, Mr. Beall said.

The exercises closed with the ritual, closing ode and the benediction by Rev. Vincent Taylor, O. S. B.

A POET AT WORK.

The Bumming May Have Helped Wordsworth Out a Bit.

To see a poem in the making, the uninitiated are apt to think, should prove an interesting sight. Unfortunately they will probably be disappointed if the description, quoted by the Rev. H. D. Rawnsley in "Literary Associations of the English Lakes," of Wordsworth at work is to be credited. An old retainer of the family furnished this account of Wordsworth walking up and down his terrace composing:

"Mr. Wordsworth went bumming and booing about, and she, Miss Dorothy, kept close behind him and picked up bits as he let fall, and she'd take 'em down and put 'em on paper for him, and you may be very well sure as how she didn't understand or make sense out of 'em, and I doubt that he didn't have much idea aboot 'em either himself. But, howiver, there's a gey lot of fowk as wad, I dare say.

"He would start a-bumming at one end of the walk, and it was 'Bum, bum, bum!' till he stopped, and then 'Bum, bum, bum!' back again. Then he'd set down and get a bit of paper out and write a bit; then git up and 'Bum, bum, bum!' and go on a-bumming right down the terrace and back again. I suppose the bumming helped him out a bit."

Saved From Awful Death.

How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C. R. F. D. No. 8. "My sister had consumption," he writes, "she was very thin and pale, had no appetitie and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, till Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not been troubled with a cough since. Its the best medicine I ever saw or heard of." For coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhage-all bronchial troubles, it has no equal, 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. A Mole's Nest.

Among common animals few have been less studied in their life history than the mole. Mr. Lionel E. Adams says that under the "fortress" which the mole constructs above the surface of the ground will always be found a series of tunnels running out beneath the adjacent field. A curious feature almost invariably found is a perpendicular run penetrating about a foot below the bottom of the nest and then turning upward to meet another run. A mole is never found in his nest, although it may yet be warm from his body when opened. Guided by smell and hearing, a mole frequently locates the nest of a partridge or pheasant above his run and, penetrating it from below, eats the eggs. The adult mole is practically blind, but there are embryonic indications that the power of sight in the race has deteriorated.

A Japanese Peculiarity.

"When a Japanese servant is rebuked or scolded," says a traveler, "he must smile like a Cheshire cat. The etiquette in smiles is very misleading at first. I often used to think that Taki, my riksha 'boy,' meant to be impertinent when he insisted on smiling when I was angry at him. But when he told me of the death of his little child with a burst of laughter I knew that this was only one of the curious details of etiquette in this topsy turvy land."

THEY BORED HIM.

And They Came Mighty Near Boring Him Again With Lead.

The dread of boredom is strongly characteristic of the present age, but few hate it with such intensity as the artist who lived in Paris in the days of the commune and of whom C. E. Halle speaks in his "Notes of a Painter's Life."

"A friend of mine," says Mr. Halle, "told me that he was in the studio of an artist when it was visited by a detachment of soldiers. The usual question about the possession of arms was asked and answered in the negative, but one of the soldiers found a gun in the corner of the studio, and on his evidence the owner was told that he must come out and be shot. My friend was very fond of him, so he asked to be allowed to see the gun. It was given to him, and with the help of a pencil he passed his handkerchief a few inches down the barrel and brought it out brown with rust. He pointed out that if the gun had been used the inside of the barrel must have been black with powder and not brown with rust, so the artist was let off.

"My friend asked the artist why he had not himself suggested this simple test, and all the answer he got was: 'Oh, they bored me. I would rather any day be shot than bored.'"

DAY 762. PHONES NIGHT 1442

SNUBS ROOSEVELT DINNER

Governor-Elect Baldwin Still Angry At Impetuous Critic.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 5.—Governor-elect Simeon Baldwin will not attend the Chamber of Commerce banquet, at which his impetuous campaign critic, Theodore Roosevelt, will be the chief guest of honor. He hasn't even replied to the invitation and refuses to discuss the matter. Judge Baldwin apparently thinks no better of Roosevelt than he did a few weeks ago, when he said that he intended to teach the Rough Rider some law by suing him for slander.

Secretary Julian, of the Chamber, said tonight that as a guest Judge Baldwin would be permitted to take his own time in accepting the invitation. He explained that it had been planned for Judge Baldwin and Colonel Roosevelt to deliver the only speech of the evening. The fact that Judge Baldwin has not accepted the invitation leaves Colonel Roosevelt as the only speaker, as no other will be named.

Who was responsible for the idea of bringing the two men together is not known. It was hoped by the Chamber of Commerce leaders that the occasion would mark a reconciliation between them, after their quarrel in the last campaign. It is not believed that Judge Baldwin was consulted. Ever since the plan was broached his friends have said he would not accept.

A Simple Safeguard for Mothers.

Mrs. D. Gilkeson, 326 Ingles Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

Helping Him Out.

For years Squire Latham, of whom many amusing stories are told, was a resident of Bridgewater, Mass., and it was while he was living there that the incident occurred which is related below. It illustrates his habitual coolness and whimsical temper.

He was awakened one night by his wife, who told him she thought there were burglars in the house. The squire put on his dressing gown and went downstairs. In the back hall he found a rough looking man trying to open a door that led into the back yard.

The burglar had unlocked the door and was pulling it with all his might.

"It doesn't open that way, you idiot!" shouted the squire, taking in the man's predicament instantly. "It slides back!"

Not a Disease.

"I can't understand my husband, doctor. I am afraid there is something terrible the matter with him."

"What are his symptoms?"

"Well, I often talk to him for half an hour at a time, and when I get through he hasn't the least idea what I've been saying."

"Don't worry any more about your husband. I wish I had his gift."

All Depends.

"I don't like to listen to hard luck stories. Do you?"

"That depends on whether they are reminiscences or the preliminaries to a touch."—Washington Herald.

Warned.

"Too many cooks spoil the broth," quoted the wise guy.

"Yes, just as too many appetizers spoil the appetite," agreed the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

It doesn't take any grit to grumble.—Chicago Tribune.

Take Care!

Remember that when your kidneys are affected your life is in danger. M. Mayer, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years." Howard Gardner.

She Appreciated the Joke.

"Biggers complains because his wife has no sense of humor."

"Biggers doesn't know it, but he's a joke. If his wife hadn't had a sense of humor she never would have married him."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Beauty is only skin deep, and most of us are thin-skinned.

Get the Genuine Always.

A substitute is a dangerous make shift especially in medicine. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds quickly and is in a yellow package. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

The Dark Ages were naturally the days of knights.

The Philadelphia Record estimates the military budget of this country in the past fiscal year as being $442,843,582. The Democrats ought to be able to propose some economy in connection with the military budget.

The Danville Bee tells of a citizen who carries twelve bottles of liquid brimstone at one cargo, having his vestments made apparently for commercial pursuits. Presumably he's just an agent, as Danvile has obviated the need of the "blind tiger."

Perfiro Diaz has for the eighth time been sworn in as President of Mexico. He has a power more supreme and absolute than has any king on earth, and Mexico is a republic only in name. But Mexico needs a wise ruler with a strong hand, and the majority of the people are afraid to make a change. A weaker man than Diaz would soon have to give way to the ambitious and restless Mexican Jacobites. And even Diaz, strong man that he is, seems to be skating on thin ice.

Cardinal Gibbons is of the opinion that many of the evils supposed to attach to some of the larger corporations would be removed by the proper publicity. Publicity is the greatest thing in the world for cutting out crookedness. The reason there is so much crookedness is that there are so many opportunities to keep all the world from knowing. When railroads are asked, for instance, to show their books so as to give an idea as to what rates are fair and what not, they insist that the inquiry must be confined to a certain period or they hamper the inquiry in some other way. Publicity, thorough and searching, will create public opinion and public opinion sooner or later will prevail.

Dun's Review says: "Business, while not so large as was anticipated a year ago, is, nevertheless, of fair proportions, and rests upon a basis of economic conditions which in the main are satisfactory." It is taking a good deal longer for the country to recover from the panic of 1907 than many supposed it would. The great mass of the people accumulate savings but slowly. In the time of the panic their savings were swept away. When capital came out of hiding and investments, meaning work for the people, began to be made again, the loss of hundreds of thousands of "nest eggs" had to be overcome and a fresh start towards new savings had to be made. All this has taken time and the process has not by any means been completed. But it is going on with reasonable speed and times are undoubtedly getting better with each passing month.

There are too many conferences. Many of them serve no other purpose than to give the conferring gentlemen a good time. Usually the same results could be had by keeping close watch on the newspapers and thus being always posted on the march of progress. The recent Governor's conference at Louisville seems to have been one of those useless gatherings. Very little was done except partake of Kentucky hospitality. The time consumed could no doubt have been used to better advantage had the Governors stayed home and used the same period of time in patient, thoroughgoing study of the problems of the chief executives of states. The Philadelphia Record says:

Too much hospitality has left the Governor's conference at Louisville with too little time for counsel. Only two of the topics on the official program were discussed, namely, Employers' Liability laws and Direct Primaries; and on both of these subjects the unpreparedness of the participants in the debate was manifest. There was a general agreement that existing laws on these subjects are unsatisfactory, a conclusion which amounts to almost nothing.

GROWTH OF STATE AND SAVINGS BANKS DURING DECADE

Resources Have Increased Over Forty Million In Past Ten Years.

Raleigh, Dec. 5.—The number of state and savings banks under the supervision of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, has increased during the past ten years from 91 to 348; the resources have increased from $14,617,959 to $62,146,551 and the total deposits in these state and savings banks have grown from $9,953,158 to $43,981,343. This splendid showing is made in a very complete comparative summary of the condition of North Carolina state and savings banks just made in the office of the corporation commission. These figures show an increase in deposits for the past ten years of $34,128,185 and in resources of $47,813,071. The figures are on reports of condition at the close of business November 10, 1910, and September 5, 1900. The comparative statement shows that capital stock has increased from $2,666,383 to $8,916,334; surplus fund from $555,747 to $1,961,488; undivided profits from $434,342 to $2,018,580; notes and bills rediscounted from $196,698 to $1,066,361; trust deposits from none ten years ago to $1,687,706. Notable comparisons among the resources are: Loans and discounts grown from $9,389,212 to $42,131,986; North Carolina State bonds from $163,223 to $264,500; United States bonds decreased from $26,200 to $1,400; all other stocks, bonds and mortgages increased from $545,324 to $1,627,841; value of banking house furniture and fixtures increased from $316,563 to $1,597,485 and demand loans from $265,668 to $1,806,521.

Governor Kitchin is back from Frankford, Ky., where he attended the annual conference of governors of the states of the Union and says he enjoyed the trip and the sessions of the governors very much. He expects to be in the office looking after an accumulation of executive business for the next several days.

The Stokes Grocery Co., of Walnut Cove, was chartered today with $15,000 by J. G. Fulton and others. Also a charter for the Acme Store Co., of Gronly, Brunswick county, capital $6,000 for mercantile business. Incorporators William Gilchrist and others.

Guilford's Population.

The census director yesterday gave out Guilford's population—60,497. This is an increase of nearly 75 per cent over the population 10 years ago. The census gives the state a population of 2,206,287, an increase of 312,477 or 16.5 per cent. Mecklenburg has 67,031, Guilford 60,497, Forsyth 47,311, New Hanover 32,037.

DRY HEADQUARTERS SHOT AT

Lynchburg, Va., Dec. 5.—Police are searching for an unidentified man who fired a revolver bullet through the window of headquarters of the local Anti-Saloon League, occupied by Rev. J. D. McAlister, general secretary of the State Anti-Saloon League. The bullet lodged in the wall directly over the desk of Rev. McAlister, who had left the room a few minutes before the shooting.

Rev. McAlister has been leading the campaign of the "dry" forces in the license campaign which will come to a climax here at the polls next Friday. His associates reported to the authorities that they believed an attempt had been made to assassinate him. The city has been dry since March, 1908. Yesterday afternoon a mass meeting of the anti-saloon forces was addressed by Congressman Richmond P. Hobson, of Alabama.

HITCHCOCK NOW INVISIBLE

Risks Having His Report Too Late, As It Was Last Year.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5.—Postmaster General Hitchcock is working overtime just now, and it is almost impossible to find him in. Visitors inquiring for him are told by Private Secretary Reik that "the Postmaster General is busy with his annual report—very, very busy, indeed. He cannot be seen except upon the most important business."

Visitors are beginning to wonder just how important this business has to be, for it is said that the Postmaster General has been invisible since Monday. Today the story of the extraordinary industry of the cabinet officer was made public. This is it:

Last year the report of the Postmaster General was just 30 days late. The Postmaster General had gone slow with its preparation. He was arranging to repeat the performance this year when he was visited by a member of the House committee on post offices and post roads, who advised him to take a look at the statute. He did. He found that under the law the Postmaster General was compelled to place his annual report in the hands of the Public Printer before the end of November. Hence this urgency.

ARRANGING FOR A BIG REVIVAL

Ministers Association Hope to Have Soul Winning Services Next Spring—Preparatory Meetings After Christmas—May Secure Noted Revivalist For a Union Meeting—Anniversary of Laymen's Movement.

The Ministerial Association of Greensboro is planning for a great revival during the coming spring and preparatory services will be held in all the churches in the city looking to this end. This was decided at yesterday's meeting of the association. All the plans have not matured at present and an adjourned meeting will be held next Monday morning to further discuss matters in connection with the movement.

The evangelistic committee, composed of Revs. R. M. Williams, S. S. Myrick and D. M. Litaker, reported and recommended as follows, the recommendations being adopted: That all the churches in the city should hold evangelistic meetings during the months of January, February, March and April; that is on Sundays, and also special prayer services, cottage prayer meetings, etc. Weekly meetings will be held by the ministers and more active church workers. If it is deemed advisable a noted evangelist will be secured to hold a series of union services during the latter part of April or the first of May.

It was decided to hold on the fourth Sunday afternoon in January a service for the official church members and Sunday school teachers at which Rev. E. K. McLarty will preach on "Soul Winning." This service will be held in Grace M. P. church.

The ministers selected the First Presbyterian church as the place for holding the anniversary services of the Laymen's Movement on January 12 and 13. An interesting program is being worked out for this occasion.

A nominating committee, composed of Revs. Williams, Long and Smith, was appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year. This committee will report at the January meeting.

BUYS FARM TO SAVE MINUTES

Banker Will Build Road to Cut Time to Station.

Trenton, Dec. 5.—It takes James M. Donald eight minutes to get from his home in Ewing township to the Philadelphia & Reading Railway station at Trenton Junction, even with a fair consideration of New Jersey's automobile speed regulations and some regard for the mechanism of his high-powered touring car. Eight minutes is more time than Mr. Donald feels he can spare in making the trip twice daily, he being a commuter to New York, where he is president of the Hanover National Bank and the head of numerous other businesse enterprises. So, in order to cut down the running time, Mr. Donald is negoiating for the purchase of a valuable 100-acre farm that he needs to make a short cut to the station.

Having acquired the farm, Mr. Donald says he will build a macadam road through it at his own expense, dedicate it to the public, and thus reduce his own running time between his home and the railroad station from eight to three minutes, giving him five minutes more for sleep or for his breakfast, and five minutes more at the end of the day. Mr. Donald has not announced what he will do with the part of the farm that will not be used for the road.

FOR A LONG LIFE

Fresh air and exercise, with proper food and a sufficient amount of sleep are the essentials.

Under such a regime of living, germs cannot develop and many diseases are prevented.

Should the system require a tonic, take only such as you know their ingredients—such is Vinol, which is a delicious combination of the healthgiving properties of the cods' livers, with all the useless grease eliminated and tonic iron added, happily blended in a mild, medicinal wine.

For this reason Vinol is regarded as one of the greatest body builders and invigorators for aged people. It invigorates and builds them up and keeps them up.

We sell Vinol with the understanding that if it does not give satisfaction the price will be returned. Fariss-Klutz Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

Oratorical Effects.

I once heard Everett, whose platform oratory was the acme of American art. His language was unimpeachable. But his every word, and not only his every word, but his every gesture, was unmistakably prepared. He seemed to gesticulate not only with his hands, but with his legs. He even planned scenic effects beforehand. Having to deliver a Fourth of July oration, he introduced a veteran of 1812, put him in a conspicuous place and told the old man to rise to him at his entrance into the hall. The old man did as he had been bidden. Everett apostrophized him with "Venerable old man, sit down! It is not for you to rise to us, but for us to rise to you." The veteran said afterward: "Mr. Everett is a strange man. He told me to rise when he came into the hall, and when I did rise he told me to sit down."—From Goldwin Smith's Reminiscences in McClure's.

The Lightning Rod.

Though Franklin will continue to receive the honor that is his due as the inventor of the first practical lightning rod, the study of atmospheric electricity goes back at least to the time of Tullius Hostilius, who perished in an attempt to "draw fire from the sky." A learned priest of the name of Divisch is said to have erected the first lightning conductor in Europe. He set it up at Prendiz, Bohemia, in 1754, and it was 130 feet high. Though the Emperor Stephen and the Empress Maria Theresa publicly proclaimed their confidence in the inventor, a most disastrous drought that afflicted the country a year later was ascribed by the superstitious populace to the newfangled device, and Divisch was compelled to take it down. It is not probable that Franklin was acquainted with Divisch's experiment.

Wrong End of the Milk.

One morning while trade was slack and he had settled himself in the store chair for a few minutes a north side grocer was interrupted by the entering of a very small daughter of Africa, who, bracing herself in the middle of the store, said, "Mam wants some scum milk," whereupon she received the asked for amount of skimmed milk.

The grocer had just settled himself for another rest when he was again interrupted by that selfsame bottle of ink: "Mam don't want this. She want that what's scummed off the top."—Indianapolis News.

Poetic Justice.

"Pa, I've just been reading about poetic justice. What does that mean?"

"Listen, my child, and you shall hear. Once there was a man who swindled me out of a lot of money in an irrigation scheme. Well, he became a victim of poetic justice. I have just heard that he died of water on the brain."—Judge.

Gratitude is the fairest blossom which springs from the soul, and the heart of man knoweth none more fragrant.—Hosea Ballou.

Wants To Help Some One.

For thirty years J. F. Boyer, of Fertile, Mo., needed help and couldn't find it. That's why he wants to help some one now. Suffering so long himself he feels for all distress from Backache, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, Lassitude and Kidney disorders. He shows that Electric Bitters work wonders for such troubles. "Five bottles," he writes, "wholly cured me and now I am well and hearty." It's also positively guaranteed for Liver Trouble, Dyspepsia, Blood Disorders, Female Complaints and Malaria. Try them. 50c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Revenge.

"Stop!" The brakes of the motor were suddenly applied, a pandemonium of whirling wheels ensued, and the motorist came face to face with Constable Coppem, who had been hiding in the hedge.

"Excuse me, sir," said the portly policeman, taking out his notebook and pencil, "but you exceeded the speed limit by two miles over a measured piece of road."

"I have done nothing of the kind," retorted the motorist, "and, besides"—

"Well, if you don't believe me I'll call the sergeant, bein' as it was 'im as took the time. He's in the pigsty yonder."

"Don't trouble, Egbert," the other hastened to reply. "I would sooner pay fifty fines than disturb the sergeant at his meals!"—London Answers.

SHE PLAYED A MAN'S PART

By SHEILA ESTHER DUNN

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

On my way to the city, passing a box designed for a receptacle for newspapers to be read by hospital patients, I wrote on the margin of my paper, "Hope you are better today," gave my address in full and deposited the gift.

Being a woman and not knowing whether the recipient would be male or female, I wrote the name so as to be ambiguous. I am Frances Kimball and signed myself Frank Kimball, which would lead one not knowing me to suppose I was a man.

In a few days I received a note signed by Edward Bucklin, stating that the paper had fallen into his hands and that it had afforded him a couple of hours' entertainment. Beyond this there was something very pleasant in occupying his fancy in wondering what sort of fellow I was. He had pictured me as a middle aged or old man—the young are naturally selfish, he said—with a benevolent face and undoubtedly interested in charitable work.

I wrote a reply, in which I refrained from giving any information about myself, though I asked him to go on with his imaginative pictures of me. I wished to know how near the truth he would come. This elicited a further reply, in which he deduced from my one act of thoughtfulness many virtues—for instance, a thoughtful man was sure to be a well poised man, and since self control was the principal qualification for bravery I must be brave. By such logical deductions he endowed me with so many fine qualifications that I was very proud of myself. Besides, it was quite interesting to see how he worked it out on the supposition that I was a man.

One day I wrote asking him to suppose that a woman had sent him the paper and deduce from this initial act what kind of person she would be. His reply was that such an act was far more within woman's realm than man's; therefore it did not argue that the woman who perpetrated it was so far superior to others of her sex as a man who did the same thing would be above his. "But," he continued, "I confess that I should, after all, have appreciated it more had it come from a woman than a man, and for this reason: Nature has not given us the power to respond to a man's sacrifice for us as for a woman's. Indeed, the man who gives to another man is limited in his feelings for that man. The reason I have deduced special qualifications from your act is that it was a woman's rather than a man's act, though it by no means indicated other feminine traits. Indeed, it is the one feminine trait a man can possess that marks him for the highest type of man."

I received in time a note stating that my correspondent would be discharged from the hospital within a few days. That he had an identity of his own is manifest from these words: "I would be glad to meet you, but it seems to me it would be far more agreeable in the end for us both not to come together. My reason is as I have written you. There can be nothing demonstrative between two men. We should shake hands coldly, make a few commonplace remarks to each other and separate. Those finer feelings to which we have given expression when separated would sound tame if spoken. In other words, our man's nature prevents us from anything like expressed sentiment. So I will say goodby to you, and God be with you."

I wrote him in reply that I did not agree with him; that history, song and story were each and all full of examples of men whose hearts went out to each other. What could be better proof of this than the case of Damon and Pythias? I closed my note with a request that he meet me at my house on a Sunday afternoon, Sunday being the only day that I was free.

His next note surprised me. He still refused to meet me. "Give up spoiling this pleasant episode," he said, "by a meeting. I confess I should not know what to say to you. Were you a woman I could take you in my arms, kiss your lips and pour out my heart to you—a heart which has been won by the delightful traits you have displayed by the first act and by the subsequent correspondence."

Now, I leave it to the reader if this was not an embarrassing position for me. Nevertheless I insisted on a meeting and finally secured one. When I went to the room where we were to meet I found a pleasant looking man of thirty-five, bearing evidence of intellect, refinement and prosperity. I advanced toward him, smiling. "I am your correspondent," I said. "My having permitted you to suppose that I am a man has been a source of great interest to me. I have learned many things that were before entirely unknown to me."

My smile was replied to in kind. He did not give me the blank look of surprise I had expected, and I asked quickly:

"You did not suspect?"

"No."

"Then why do you show no surprise?"

"I did not suspect; I knew."

"My handwriting was masculine."

"Certainly, but few women can personate a man, even on paper, without being detected."

The episode in time changed me from a spinster to a married woman.

Faint?

Have you weak heart, dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals? Or do you experience pain over the heart, shortness of breath on going up-stairs and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood? A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The heart becomes regular as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the nerves in turn are well fed. The arteries are filled with good rich blood. That is why nervous debility, irritability, fainting spells, disappear and are overcome by this alterative extract of medicinal roots put up by Dr. Pierce without the use of alcohol. Ask your neighbor. Many have been cured of scrofulous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc., by taking Dr. Pierce's Discovery. Just the refreshing and vitalizing tonic needed for excessive tissue waste, in convalescence from fevers or for run-down, anæmic, thin-blooded people. Stick to this safe and sane remedy and refuse all "just as good" kinds offered by the dealer who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing will do you half as much good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Turn a Draught to Good Account

Often in winter you dare not open a window, even though the room be warm, because the cold air makes a draught that is dangerous. With a Perfection Oil Heater there need be no danger from draughts.

Open the lower part of the window a little, put the Perfection Oil Heater in front of it, and the cold draught will be turned into a pleasant, healthful current of fresh air. The gives just as much heat as you desire. It is safe, odorless and smokeless. Has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove to clean and drop back. Burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device therefor; it can be easily and quickly unscrewed for rewicking.

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless

An indicator shows the amount of oil in the font. Has a cool handle. Filler-cap is put in place like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain. Finished in japan or nickel, strong and durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

OFFICERS RAID NEAR BEER JOINT

T. R. Pegram, of Jamestown, Was Selling the Real Article—Two and a Half Barrels of Beer Seized by County Authorities—Pegram To Be Tried Saturday Before High Point Justice.

The screech of the fiddle and resonant sounds of the banjo, together with the merry laughter and hilarity, which prevailed in the near beer saloon of T. R. Pegram at old Jamestown Saturday night ,was rudely interrupted by the entrance of several county officials, and consternation was fixed on the countenances of the merry-makers when the officers laid hands on some two and half barrels of high class beer that was located in a secluded corner of the place.

Pegram secured a license to sell near beer in September and it appears that he has been doing a flourishing business since that time. It leaked out several days ago that the real article could be purchased there and an investigation proved the correctness of the assertion. Accordingly Deputy Sheriffs J. H. Shaw, W. J. Weatherly, of this city, and J. H. Parrish and Chief of Police B. C. Ridge, of High Point, went down Saturday night and procured an automobile and went to the old Jamestown where Pegram's place was located.

They failed to find anyone drunk, but the conditions as described above existed, everybody being in the best of humor and having a fine time. There were two barrels of beer that had not been opened, this bearing the seal and label which showed it to be beer of a high grade. The two and a half dozen bottles that had been unpacked were not labeled, Pegram admitting that he pulled the labels off. He declared that if the stuff was not near beer that he was fooled for he bought it as such. As to pulling the labels off he said this was done because of the sentiment in that section against labeled goods. It was not Budweiser, but it was Annhouser Bush.

The beer was carried to High Point and Pegram furnished bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance yesterday morning before Justice W. S. Lovelace, of High Point. Yesterday a continuance was granted until next Saturday. He will be bound over to Superior court, which begins Monday. The beer will be held until the court orders some disposition made of it.

Charged With Littering Sidewalk.

Warrants were served on Ransom Slade, Howard Hollis, Walter Nelson and Lonnie Foster yesterday afternoon, the defendants being charged with littering the sidewalk with coal dust. They will be given a hearing this morning. The sidewalk littered was adjoining the Guilford Hotel and Mr. Cobb, the proprietor, was arraigned on the charge yesterday, but the court held that he was not responsible for the condition of affairs so the police went after the negroes who hauled the coal.

Fixtures and Supplies of Holton Drug Co. Sold Yesterday.

But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your "heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound" to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate?
